

FEB 3 2011

Major General M. Ted Wong, US Army, DDS, MHA
Chief of the Army Dental Corps
2250 Stanley Road
Building 2840, Room 276
Fort Sam Houston, TX 78234

Dear General Wong

I am pleased to offer a hearty congratulations to the men and women of the Army Dental Corps as you celebrate your Centennial Birthday. It is with special pride that the Air Force Dental Service conveys these wishes since it is, in effect, our birthday too. As dentistry was emerging as a science-based profession, our forbears saw the need to provide for the oral health of our members in uniform. Their vision has come to fruition in today's Army Dental Corps.

We applaud your success in graduate dental education, dental research and soldier dental readiness, both Active and Reserve components, and we look forward to a strong enduring partnership in the years ahead.

Sincerely

GERARD A. CARON
Major General, USAF, DC
Assistant Surgeon General, Dental Services
Office of the Surgeon General